Hello Tabatha,

I am a bit confused. This is my second re-election attempt and I do not recall being required to register as a "new" candidate back in 2015. With the assumption that I was mistaken and there was something that I needed to do I logged in today to attempt to renew my account. I was unable to do so and it took me down a path of asking for questions that I already answered when I filed my F-1 earlier this year. My concern here is that I will have two separate profiles in the system with all of my information. Or has my account been deleted? I need a little clarification on this and will do whatever is necessary to get this resolved. This is my first complaint! I never wanted to get one, but after 3 campaigns and 8 years in office I guess my track record is still ok. Thanks for your help with this.

Respectfully,
Brad Anderson
