Subject: Fw: PDC Financial Affairs Report

Description:

Dear Tabatha,

In regards to our email exchange about my filing requirements (specifically now focused on a Financial Affairs submission), I have this to offer:

Enclosed is what I was going on, namely this receipt from the PDC entitled Financial Affairs Report, which I assumed was the required form to be filed. If this is not the required form, please allow me to re-file the correct one immediately!

Thank you for your oversight, and please point me in the right direction.

Dear Tabatha,

Thank you for your patience and handling of my case. I now understand all that is (and was) required. As you stated in your email, I "quickly made a good-faith effort to resolve the oversight". Below is my response to address the late C-1 report:

My sincere apologies for my misunderstanding of the requirements for the Candidate's C-1 report.

I misunderstood the PDC's guidelines for Campaign Bank Account & Deposits. In the second sentence of the paragraph for Opening the Account, it states that: "The candidate may choose to open the account at the start of the campaign or not until the first contribution has been received." Since I was not planning to receive any contributions or make expenditures (at least until a later date in the campaign), I believed that listing a Campaign Bank Account was not necessary at that time. I have since taken the PDC's recommendation to activate a Campaign Bank Account to avoid the possibility of co-mingling a personal account audit. My updated C-1 filing was submitted on 7/12/19.
