I have today seen the email below. Since late July I have been on doctor enforced bed rest due to a severe back injury that included multiple ER visits, tests, and referral to Seattle Neurologist and more.

My campaign has no officers, nor any plans to get any. I do not accept funds nor do I spend my own funds on this election. I was planning to walk the precincts, leaving short notes. That cannot happen as I am now unable to walk more than 100 feet without a prolonged rest. I will use social media exclusively and attend forums that invite me and do not require standing.

There are no contributions and no expenses. There are no financial affairs as there is no funding whatsoever. Not even printing of flyers and signs.

How do I proceed?
