To Whom it may concern;

I apologize for not seeing your earlier email. However, I would like to respond to you and Mr. Reed. First

I had no idea that I could not hand out my card as Mayor when speaking with the public. The cards were designed by the City but since early ib 2016, I have had them made at Office Max and purchased them myself. Now that I am aware of this, I will stop using them, when handing out materials. I would like to know though, if this restricts me from handing them out when I meet people and exactly when my duties as Mayor would be affected during an election year. The second charge, about my materials not containing sponsor information. I have no sponsors. I have paid for all my materials myself. Please let me know if that settles the matter or I have to revise my information.

Thank you.
