Complaint Description
Laurie Euler (Thu, 23 Jul 2020 at 10:31 AM) I received a campaign-related post card from candidate for governor, David W. Blomstrom on Tuesday, July 21 2020. It refers to the coronavirus pandemic as the "jew flu" in several instances. This is above and beyond any reasonable campaign message and extends to hate speech. I don't believe residents should be forced to receive hate speech from complete strangers in their own mailboxes, regardless of whether the individual is a candidate for government office. In addition to the offensive statements, no address or contact information is listed by the candidate or his sponsors.
What impact does the alleged violation(s) have on the public?
I received a campaign-related post card from candidate for governor, David W. Blomstrom on Tuesday, July 21 2020. It refers to the coronavirus pandemic as the "jew flu" in several instances. This is above and beyond any reasonable campaign message and extends to hate speech. I don't believe residents should be forced to receive hate speech from complete strangers in their own mailboxes, regardless of whether the individual is a candidate for government office. Additionally, no address or contact information is listed by the candidate or his sponsors. It is unfair that voters are subjected to this offensive speech, while the candidate and his sponsors contact information is unknown.

The corporate media claim Judy Mikovits is a fraud.
Yet they shamelessly publicize Plandemic.

Jew Flu, on the other hand, is invisible. It's banned everywhere. Mikovits' book Plague of Corruption is an Amazon bestseller. But Amazon won't touch Jew Flu.

Bonus: Jew Flu's author is a candidate for Washington State Governor. Curious?
