Complaint Description
Robin Farris (Tue, 11 Aug 2020 at 9:57 AM) 1. RCW 42.17A.335 - The following mailers were received from July 15, 2020, and August 4, 2020. They are listed by PAC and number (the number is annotated on each mailer):: PAC South Sound Future Enterprise Washington #1 (Minor Issue) PAC Disclosure is not 10-Pt (I had numbered the flyers before I realized this was the only issue). #3 & #5: Incorrect statements: - Higher property taxes: See the Puyallup 2020 Budget Appendix E. - Higher Sales Tax: They are referring to SB 1406, which allows cities to receive a sales tax credit for affordable housing. - Cemetery "Death Tax" Fee increase resolution. See the Minutes of March 12, 2019, Puyallup City Council Meeting, Julie Door was excused from that meeting and did not vote on this resolution. People For Jobs Enterprise Washington Mailer #2, 4, 6 Complaints the same as #3 and 5. These two PACs are operated by the same officers and board members who are in the building industry and top donors are from the realtors, building industry, and petroleum industry. Due to the makeup of the organization and top donors, I can only assume these are not simple errors, rather they are intentionally false as I can't imagine professionals in these industries would not understand the SB 1406. Since they had the wherewithal to comb through six years of council minutes to find these items, I am also doubting a simple error in their research. 2. RCW 42.17A.110 - I received the first erroneous mailer on July 15, 2020, and immediately (blasted) wrote a response to the errors on Facebook. In this post, I tagged Chris Gildon's name to ensure he saw my post. I did not receive any rebuttal to my comments. Last week, right after the Primary election, the Tacoma News Tribune wrote an article about the errors. Mr. Gildon made a weak rebuttal that he has no control over independent expenditures. True that, however, it was not prompt and would not have been public if they hadn't run the story. 3. (Unknown statute) Potential conflict of interest. Tom Perry owns a small business, Campaign Compliance Solutions. I am inquiring whether his appointment/employment as the Treasurer for Candidate Gildon and Deputy Treasurer for the two PACs in question is a conflict of interest. Even though he is the Deputy Treasurer for the two PACs, Mr. Perry's name is on most if not all the submitted forms for both PACs. 4. South Sound Future Enterprise Washington has not reported any expenditures. I've read the instructions several times and I can't figure out when the report is due. So this may not even be an issue.

I really appreciate the staff and PDC's attention to this matter. It takes a lot for me to report someone to the PDC, but this is just wrong.

Sincerely, Robin Farris

What impact does the alleged violation(s) have on the public?

The 6 mailers and media buys depict false and misleading statements that (then) Councilmember Julie Door supported significant tax increases in the City of Puyallup. These false statements create a great deal of anxiety during a time of economic uncertainty, loss (hopefully a gap) of unemployment insurance supplement, and the eviction moratorium. Currently, the poverty rate in Puyallup is nearly 11% and seniors (65 and older) make up 20% of the adult population. As a result, up to 30% of the population has some level of economic insecurity during normal conditions. Unfortunately, we are not in normal conditions and the economic insecurity is exacerbated by the inability of Congress to agree on the HEROS Act.

Secondly, the sheer volume of mailers and media buys creates a very large net to amplify this erroneous information. One mailer can be ignored, but I received six (6) mailers, a website using the candidate's name (juliedoor.com), and media ads. I haven't seen the cable ads as I don't have cable service; however, it is reported to have the same information in the ads that are listed on the mailers. Additionally, the donors and PAC administrators are not political neophytes. I imagine they are rolling the dice and are willing to pay the fine if they get caught. The seeds of doubt they sow and impact on citizens don't seem to be a consideration, which if true, is extremely disappointing.

Thirdly, WAC 390-32-010

Fair Campaign Practices Code for candidates and political committees (4) states, "I shall not use or authorize, and I shall condemn material relating to my campaign which falsifies, misrepresents, or distorts the facts, including but not limited to malicious or unfounded accusations creating or exploiting doubts as to the morality, patriotism or motivations of any party or candidate." and (7) further commits the candidate to do the following, "I shall promptly and publicly repudiate the support of any individual or group which resorts, on behalf of my candidacy or in opposition to that of my opponent(s) to methods in violation of the letter or spirit of this code." I received the first flyer on July 15, 2020, and immediately posted a rebuttal on Facebook and tagged candidate Chris Gildon. To the best of my knowledge, Mr. Gildon did not take any action to repudiate the false statements until the Tacoma News Tribune wrote an article about the false statements.

Finally, I have not discovered any guidance on this next issue, but it seems like a conflict of interest to have the same treasurer for candidate Gildon and for the two PACs opposing Julie Door. It seems that there is a conflict of interest as there is a greater likelihood of disclosure of the independent expenditures.

Appendix E: Finances

An analysis was accomplished of recent financial trends in Puyallup and the impact federal and state program mandates, revenue sharing, and the city's urbanization have on the discretionary monies available for park, recreation, and open space.

The analysis also reviewed trends in Puyallup revenues and the affect alternative revenue sources may have on financial prospects.

Revenue and expenditure trends - general government

Puyallup's annual general governmental expenditures are derived from the combination of general, special revenue, debt service, and enterprise funds.

General fund

The General Fund is derived from property taxes, licenses and permits, intergovernmental revenues including state and federal grants, service charges and fees, fines and forfeitures, and other miscellaneous revenues. General funds are used to finance most government operations including staff, equipment, capital facility, and other requirements. Park, recreation, and open space programs and facilities are funded primarily from general fund accounts.

- Property tax - under Washington State's constitution cities may levy a property tax rate not to exceed $3.60 per $1000 of the assessed value of all taxable property within incorporation limits.

The total of all property taxes for all taxing authorities, however, cannot exceed 1.0% of assessed valuation, or $10.00 per $1,000 of value. If the taxes of all districts exceed the 1.0% or $10.00 amount, each is proportionately reduced until the total is at or below the 1.0% limit.

In 2001, Washington State law was amended by Proposition 747, a statutory provision limiting the growth of regular property taxes to 1.0% per year, after adjustments for new construction. Any proposed increases over this amount are subject to a referendum vote.

The statute was intended to control local governmental spending by controlling the annual rate of growth of property taxes. In practice, however, the statute can reduce the effective property tax yield to an annual level far below a city's levy authorization, particularly when property values are increasing rapidly.

Property tax rates per $1,000 assessed value

Year	Regular	Bonds	Total
2014	$1.81	$0.19	$2.00
2015	$1.78	$0.17	$1.95
2016	$1.75	$0.16	$1.91
2017	$1.64	$0.15	$1.79
2018	$1.53	$0.13	$1.66

In 2018, for example, Puyallup's effective regular property tax rate had declined to $1.53 per $1,000 of assessed value as a result of the 1% lid limit on annual revenue or about 43% of what the city is authorized to assess.

- Sales tax - is the city's largest single revenue source and may be used for any legitimate city purpose. However, the city has no direct control over the taxing policy of this source of revenue. The sales tax is collected and distributed by the state and may fluctuate with general economic and local business conditions.
- Utility tax - is collected from the charges assessed on all city utilities including water, sewer, and storm. The utility tax is collected by the city and may fluctuate depending on what infrastructure upgrades each utility is paying to update utility systems and operations.

General Government Revenue Sources 2018

Source	2018	Percent
Taxes	$42,542,676	38.9%
Licenses and permits	$2,200,697	2.0%
Intergovernmental	$8,075,342	7.4%
Charges for services	$47,121,028	43.1%
Fines and penalties	$3,669,909	3.4%
Misc revenues	$5,670,340	5.2%

Additional Consulting Services – Public Safety Building (PSB)

Councilmember Jacobsen referred to the high price quoted for the public safety building and asked for more information on the request for additional consulting services.

City Manager Kevin Yamamoto explained that the request is for future scoping and needs assessment services. Additional services are necessary to address council's cost concerns and to retain architectural services as the project progresses.

Each councilmember voiced his/her opinion regarding the extension of architectural services. All agreed upon the need for a new police department, acknowledged the short time frame and were agreeable to moving forward with the project.

Mr. Yamamoto responded to several concerns voiced by councilmembers regarding the extension of the consultant contract, council's desire to stay abreast of project costs and the ability to halt the project should council deem it necessary.

Council Action: A motion was made by Councilmember Jacobsen and seconded by Deputy Mayor Swanson to approve the contract for additional consulting services related to the Public Safety Building with proper fiscal management. The motion passed 6-0.

ORDINANCES

Ordinance updating the Puyallup Municipal Code related to small cell wireless facilities

Community Development Director Tom Utterback pointed out that the two ordinances, small cell wireless (20.59) and telecommunication service providers (11.32), interrelate and would be addressed as one item. He outlined the format of the presentation, provided a brief history of past and current actions and identified the difference between the two codes, and described staff's actions in meeting the additional rules adopted by the FCC.

Assistant Planner Rachael Brown reviewed the key policy issues addressed during the 2018 code amendment cycle and identified the mandated policy changes per the new FCC rules. Additionally, she outlined administrative code changes made to meet the new FCC guidelines along with other changes intended to modernize the current language.

Ms. Brown and outside legal counsel Elana Zana (Ogden Murphy and Wallace) responded to several questions, comments and concerns voiced by councilmembers relating to the City of Seattle's appeal of the FCC regulations; antenna aesthetics; the siting of antennas on ornamental and traffic signal poles; the number of wireless facilities allowed on a pole; and the city's ability to change the code should the lawsuit prevail.

Council Action: A motion was made by Councilmember Johnson and seconded by Deputy Mayor Swanson to approve first reading of the ordinance. The motion passed 6-0.

Council Action: A motion was made by Councilmember Johnson and seconded by Deputy Mayor Swanson to approve first reading of the ordinance. The motion passed 6-0.

Ordinance relating to Lewd Conduct

Deputy City Attorney Shawn Arthur explained that the city follows the state's indecent exposure code. The amendment will close a loophole and allow the police department to enforce the law against certain acts.

Council Action: A motion was made by Councilmember Johnson and seconded by Councilmember Jacobsen to approve first reading of the ordinance. The motion passed 6-0.

RESOLUTIONS

Resolution updating the Woodbine Cemetery Fee Schedule

Mr. Yamamoto explained that the resolution will adjust fees and incorporates the niche wall; it meets the business plan and is straight forward.

There was discussion regarding the possibility of incorporating commemorative items and if the Cemetery Fee Schedule is where this activity would be added. Deputy Mayor Swanson further spoke of a program by the City of Sumner where they plant young trees at their cemetery, allow them to grow, and transplant them as the need arises.

Council Action: A motion was made by Deputy Mayor Swanson and seconded by Councilmember Jacobsen to approve the resolution. The motion passed 6-0.

RESOLUTION NO. 2367

A RESOLUTION of the City Council, of the City of Puyallup, Washington revising fees charged at Woodbine Cemetery

CITY MANAGER'S REPORT

Mr. Yamamoto advised of an executive session to discuss real estate and collective bargaining.

COUNCIL REPORTS

Councilmember Jacobsen reported on her attendance at the 2019 Puyallup Police Awards Ceremony. She voiced her support of the police department, acknowledged conditions at the current facility and the need for a new facility, but struggled with the high cost quoted by the consultant. She outlined the financial impacts to the average homeowner and opined that the property tax increase may cause the ballot measure to fail. She voiced a need to lower the cost and expressed disappointment that the issue was not revisited at this meeting.

Councilmember Farris recognized the new At Home store and the reopening of the Meridian Café. She advised of her attendance at the Ice Cream with the Mayor event, where she spoke with citizens about Shaw Road and the need for air conditioning at the senior center. She reported on Pierce Transit's (PT) new LYFT program, phone App, and Bus Rapid Transit (BRT) service on Pacific Avenue in Tacoma. She pointed out that PT is considering Meridian as a potential BRT route.

Councilmember Kastama thanked Mr. Swanson for his comments about WSU and Mr. Churchman for his dialogue about conflicts of interest. He explained the rationale behind the insurance company's settlement of a lawsuit against the city for the clearing of encampments and infringement of civic rights.

Deputy Mayor Swanson advised of his attendance at the Step by Step Banquet. He reported that the group has met their fundraising goal, their finances have been secured, and he anticipated a grand opening celebration later this year.

MAYORS REPORT

Mayor Palmer applauded council's efforts at the retreat regarding the public safety building, Washington State University, and downtown development. He accepted the high quote as the beginning from which council will focus their energies over the next few months, with the goal to present a viable public safety building to the community.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

At 8:33 p.m., Mayor Palmer announced an executive session of approximately twenty-five minutes, to discuss labor negotiations and real estate matters. City Manager Kevin Yamamoto, Assistant City Manager Steve Kerkelie, City Attorney Joe Beck, Deputy City Attorney Shawn Arthur, Police Chief Scott Engle, Human Resources Director Katie Ortega, Community Development Director Tom Utterback, City Engineer Hans Hunger, Administrative Clerk Cindy Huff, Executive Assistant Jessica Johnson, Mayor Palmer, and the councilmembers moved into executive session.

At 9:00 p.m., Mayor Palmer extended the executive session for an additional thirty minutes. The executive session ended at 9:10 p.m., with no action taken.

PLEASE SHARE LIBERALLY!

Voting Friends in Puyallup - Important read.

Chris Gildon should be ashamed of his supporters sending out a false and legally libelous piece of literature, even if it's not approved by you, it reflects you.

I don't mind campaign pieces on candidates that stretch the truth a little, I don't mind PACs sending out a lit piece as an independent expenditure on the candidate. But I HATE when they resort to misinformation and lies on a website (Juliedoor.com) to get elected.

So let me break the hit piece that states Julie loves taxes.

-Property tax increase 1% each year is voted on unanimously each year to offset the typical 3.5% inflation rate.

- Water and sewer increase - It is a utility with an aging infrastructure. This was a modest increase to provide a service. Further, this increase served to DECREASE unequal subsidies of those citizens who consume more water.

- Cemetery fees. This was a modest amount to ensure the cemetery had adequate landscaping.

- higher cost for copying public records. That went from 10 cents to 25 cents or something. BUT if it is a large request, they will download records onto a disk for 5 dollars.

Now here is an outright factually false statement.

- Higher sales tax! What they are referring to is actually a TAX CREDIT that does not increase or decrease sales tax.

- The State of Washington is rebating a portion of the sales tax they collect and GIVING IT TO cities for affordable housing. We are actually COLLECTING MONEY FOR AFFORDABLE HOUSING PROJECTS IN PUYALLUP.

- I filed a complaint at the PDC regarding this lit piece. According to RCW 42.17A.335, it "constitut{es} libel or defamation per se" if a communication "contains a false statement of material fact about a candidate for public office."

- The PAC who sponsored this literature will not care about a small fine for doing it and I would be surprised if the candidate himself repudiated the statement in any meaningful way.

Now let me tell you the TRUTH - overall, Puyallup homeowners have paid lower property taxes than they did in 2008. Every member of the council is very aware of tax increases and we scrutinize them very carefully.

Now Julie Door may not be in your party, but she is originally from Puyallup. She lives her values. She truly is bipartisan and works on what is important to citizens. I am certain Julie will get more done in the first 90 days than just about any new senator.

Look, Julie is the real deal and one of the best public policymakers in the region. But mostly she just has more class and character.
