Complaint Description

American Wolf formed in May 2020, with official name 'American Progressive Constitutional Party' (see business card). Their mission (see Plan photo) is all about meeting candidates, vetting them, then endorsing. Note they have endorsed a candidate in this screenshot, for Washington Governor. They even describe themselves as a political organization (see Wolf Info photo) Clearly, American Wolf is a political committee. Incidental, single year, or continuing? Well, we'd go to the C1 to see that. Unfortunately, there is no C1, under any name I can search, creating this committee.

This is further reinforced when someone responded via Text to the phone number the founder gave - (see initial response photo) - the first thing recruits are to do is vote for a specific candidate, because it is part of the plan.

But they do have significant funds. They have at least two styles of t-shirts printed in quantity (see photos). They own a limousine and Box Truck, see photo. They own an RV and a flatbed truck. They own significant equipment with their logo (see Gear confiscated in Oregon photo, and others). Their founder is now a 'full-time freedom fighter' (see wolf founder photo), so assuming they have paid staff.

They have actively electioneered - see electioneering and endorsee photos. Throughout the summer, they have been in person and on social media, promoting their political agenda, and spending a lot of money, based on all the items they have purchased. But I can find no C4 reports with expenditures detailed.

They have raised significant monies. The Culp campaign paid them $7000, according to the Seattle Times (See Wolf-Seattle times photo), which was originally declared as 'charity' then reclassified- but we don't know what it was spent on, or if it was income, as there are no records to review. In addition, they make asks for money online (see wolf ask photo). They say they raised over $60,000 for Kyle Rittenhouse - then diverted 20% to themselves, and from their report, aggregated more than $4000 to the Culp campaign from this - exceeding the contribution limit, and aggregating from unknown sources. Their website (americanwolf689) accepts contributions, sells merchandise.

American Wolf has been removed from Twitter, and removed from Facebook for violating terms of service. They have raised and spent countless thousands of dollars for self-proclaimed political purposes - but we can find no records or any registration or reporting to the PDC.

They have violated most of the sections of 42.17A - I tried to list them all at the top, but there's a lot.

When this kind of money is being spent on electioneering - the public DOES have a right to know the details.

What impact does the alleged violation(s) have on the public?

Electioneering has rules which we all follow. If someone flagrantly ignores or violates them, and is not held accountable, there is less reason to comply.

Links to controversial far-right groups

As police chief and as a gubernatorial candidate, Culp has maintained associations with some controversial far-right organizations.

His campaign paid $7,000 in June to Peter Diaz, founder of a group called American Wolf, which has sent armed civilians to act as self-appointed, pro-law-enforcement "peacekeepers" at protests against racism and policing. The payment was initially listed in Public Disclosure Commission reports as for "charity" but was revised to say it was for a fundraising event Diaz helped organize.

For defying voters on Initiative 1639, the 2018 voter-approved gun law, Culp was named "Police Chief of the

We can confirm that officers have conducted a traffic stop of a vehicle leaving Delta Park. The officers took possession of firearms, paintball guns, baseball bats, and shields. At least one criminal citation was issued.

Our Strategic Plan

We don't want to reinvent the wheel - our strategic plan is to meet potential candidates in person, have a conversation, and see if they are the REAL DEAL before we endorse.

We plan to visit 15-20 states in 2020 to that end. We will visit all 50 states prior to the election cycles for each state.

Below are the candidates we have met personally, and do believe they are the REAL DEAL. Click the website button for each candidate to read more!
