I am writing in review of the complaint filed in the above-referenced matter. This complaint seems to be a continuation of an earlier complaint that the PDC has already dismissed and is therefore res judicata. However, if you have any specific questions, my client will be happy to respond.

Please review his previous response to the previous complaint but also consider these additional facts:

- The website www.Tim4Gov.com is no longer active and the videos that were posted there when it was active did not require an expenditure of money to create or post there (all fixed costs involved)
- The small number of copies that were printed of the petitions were paid for personally by my client, not any political committee.

Please contact me by email directly in respect of any additional inquiry.

Thank you.
