What impact does the alleged violation(s) have on the public?

A local ballot measure committee organized to oppose ballot measures on the 2021 November ballot. A website called “Just Vote No” advocated against seven measure amendments to the Clark County Charter on the general election ballot in 2021. Spent a considerable amount of money on campaign with no disclosure.

Voters don’t have access to timely and accurate information about the financing of “Just Vote No” efforts because they are not registered with the Public Disclosure Commission as required by Washington State law. Nor is there paid for by or sponsored by listed on their website.

The campaign finance and disclosure laws rely on the antiseptic qualities of "sunshine" and several prohibitions to assure citizens of Washington that governmental systems and individuals who operate within it are open and honest.

Before deciding which ballot proposals deserve support, the law provides citizens with an in-depth look at who is financing a campaign.

The public can’t access this information because “Just Vote No” doesn’t have a registered political committee.

Your cheat sheet for all seven 2021 Amendment Measures.

We want you to vote "NO" on all seven (7) of the Clark County Charter Committee recommendations.

Why you ask? Simply put, they are bad recommendations and bad changes which will damage Clark County.

How can we convince you to vote No? We've condensed all of the legalized language into a simple to understand explanation that we normal people (like you and I) can understand in minutes rather than hours.

What does the Charter Committee do and why does it exist?
