Hello,

Sorry it has taken me so long to respond. My wife and I are not politicians and have never ran for office before. My wife is my campaign manager and we both missed that your party designation had to be on all our platforms and materials. It was an oversight on our part being new to campaigning.

Once it was brought to our attention, we placed the designation on our signs and literature that we could. We updated our website and all new materials ordered had the designation placed on them. There was no purposeful intention to leave it off, it was just an oversight.

Thank you for your time in helping clear this issue up.

Sincerely,

Wade Nelson
