What impact does the alleged violation(s) have on the public?
The South Whidbey Parks and Aquatics Foundation is leading a political campaign to get a multi-million dollar bond issue approved to create a new community pool. They have a website pushing for this, sent out a mass mailing, and have posted many, many yard signs. The impact on the public is we do not know who is promoting this bond issues, where donations are coming from, and how that money is being spent. How do we know this is a legitimate activity.

South Whidbey Parks and Recreation District (SWPRD) has received over $750,000 from the state legislature in 2022 and 2023 and is using these funds for the architectural and engineering design of the pool facility. SWPRD has retained Architecture Resource Collaborative (ARC) of Seattle to provide these services. The architectural rendering shown here is a result of the design effort to date. It is not a final design and is subject to change.
