Tabatha Blacksmith,

Thank you for reaching out to me on this issue. For this campaign we handed over the responsibility of reporting to our Union's treasurer. He kept detailed records of our expenses and contributions but it appears that he didn't file the reports as he was supposed to. He had previous exposure to the old ORCA reporting system, but was unaware of the new system. I have spoken with him, collected the information and filed the required reports as requested and suggested by you in our email exchange. Our intention is to always play by the rules and report accordingly, and we will work to ensure that it does not happen moving forward. In the future we will ensure that reporting is completed timely and contributions and expenses are reported in their allotted timeframes. Your assistance over the phone and email reply provided us with all of the information needed to finish this task as quickly as possible. Again, sorry for the confusion.
