Conner, let me be the first one to congratulate you for being a complete moron!

All you had to do was communicate that you were in accounting for WSRP and asked for the invoices!

It would have been no problem, really. But I guess you like to play your little games with people, huh?

The more disturbing notion is that the honorable legislators of Washington State put a law, as unthought out as this, on the books!

Gee, I guess I will now reach out, as a private citizen, to every printer in the state of Washington who works with any Political entity and get their financials so I will then know what they are charging so I can undercut them and poach their business. (Not my style)

The invoices you are wanting to see are in the attached PDF document CHM_invoices_WSRP.pdf

No son, the document is password protected so you will need to type in HI IM CONNOR AND IM A MORON.....no spaces of course... 😊
