Afternoon Tayna,

To answer your question:

"Re: Tight Lies LLC, do you personally own 10 percent or more, or serve as an officer, director or general partner?"

I do not personally own 10% or more of Tight Lies LLC, nor am I an officer, director, or a general manager.

I listed Tight Lies LLC on my F1 because this is a community property State.

The business is owned by my husband, Eric R Johnson, and his partner, Bob Stiles. I do not take part in any business-related decisions or discussions related to Tight Lies LLC.

It was my husband's partner, Bob Stiles, who applied for the grant.

I know now I ought to have inquired with my husband before completing my reporting for 2024 on my F1. That said, not being listed on any of the legal documents pertaining to Tight Lies LLC, including the bank accounts, it just never occurred to me. I have worked diligently to keep my political position separate from any of my husband's business.

Please let me know if there is anything else I can be of assistance with, or any further questions you may have.

Thank you,

Julia M Johnson
